Jennifer M. Scott has joined the law firm of Conrad Trosch & Kemmy, P.A., of Charlotte, where she will focus on estate planning and family law. She comes to Charlotte from Chicago where she represented families in Child Protection proceedings with the Cook County government.

In that role, Ms. Scott litigated more than 300 issues on behalf of families and acted as a neutral, third-party mediator to assist her clients in resolving their disputes and reaching mutually agreeable settlements. She also brings to the firm experience in the field of real estate, having served as Settlement Attorney for buyers and sellers of residential property.

“We are pleased that Jennifer Scott decided to join Conrad Trosch & Kemmy,” said partner Michael Kemmy, who heads the firm’s Estate Planning, Probate and Elder Law Department. “She brings strong professional skills and is a perfect fit with our practice philosophy.”

A graduate of Emory University in Atlanta, Ms. Scott earned her Bachelor of Arts degree in political science with a minor in Spanish. Upon graduation, she moved to Madrid, Spain, where she interned with the corporate group of the law firm H&S Sampere Asociados. While assisting with trial preparation and appeals, Ms. Scott became fluent in Spanish, a skill she has maintained.

Upon completion of the internship, Ms. Scott entered The George Washington University Law School in Washington, DC. She was a member of the law school’s Trial Advocacy Board, where she competed in, coached and judged trial competitions. She also was active in the community, assisting in such legal matters as civil litigation, family law, and formal mediation agreements. As a result of her work, she received a “J.B. and Maurice C. Shapiro Public Service Award” for outstanding commitment to non-profit legal organizations.

Admitted to the North Carolina Bar in 2011, Ms. Scott is a member of the Mecklenburg County Bar Association and its Young Lawyers Division. She also is an Attorney Advocate in the Mecklenburg county Guardian ad Litem program.

“The attorneys of Conrad Trosch & Kemmy are dedicated to providing creative solutions for all of their clients. I look forward to contributing to that effort and lending my strengths to both the estate planning and the family law practice groups,” Ms. Scott said.
