Super Lawyers Names Eric Trosch Rising Star Again

Eric Trosch, a partner in the law firm of Conrad, Trosch & Kemmy, PA, has been named a Super Lawyers Rising Star for the second consecutive year. Trosch is a specialist in family law, certified by the North Carolina State Bar Board of Legal Specialization.

Super Lawyers is a rating service of outstanding lawyers from more than 70 practice areas who have attained a high-degree of peer recognition and professional achievement.

Trosch also was named a "Rising Star" in 2012. In January 2013, he was honored as one of Business North Carolina magazine's Legal Elite, lawyers whose peers think they are the best in their fields.

A graduate of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, Trosch earned his law degree at Wake Forest University School of Law. He joined Conrad, Trosch & Kemmy in 2005.

He was the first recipient of the annual American Academy of Matrimonial Lawyers' Award for outstanding contribution to the advancement of matrimonial law. Appointed to the Domestic Court Committee of the Mecklenburg County Courts in 2002, he assists in the drafting of local rules and forms for Mecklenburg County.

Eric also is an active member of the Family Law Section of the North Carolina Bar Association and was elected to serve a four-year term on the Family Law Council. He is certified to practice Collaborative Law and is a member of the executive steering committee of the Mecklenburg Collaborative Family Law Practice Group.

Super Lawyers magazine featured the list and profiles of selected "Super Lawyer" and "Rising Star" attorneys in its February edition. The magazine is distributed to attorneys in the state and to ABA-accredited law school libraries. In 1998, Super Lawyers launched Rising Stars to recognize top up-and-coming attorneys in the state - those who are 40 years old or younger, or who have been practicing for 10 years or fewer. The selection process includes independent research, peer nominations and peer evaluations.
